Lewis and Clark Reveals . . .

... The South Side Story

Dedication

The 1963 Tiger is dedicated to the telling of the South Side Story. This Story pertains to Lewis and Clark, because Lewis and Clark is the only South Side high school. In short, Lewis and Clark is the South Side Story. The opening of the new high school in the fall of 1963 represents a milestone in South Side History, actually the "End of an Era."

Each section of this Tiger is to be read as a chapter of a book, each chapter telling of a phase of the closely related Lewis and Clark and South Side Stories. The section dividers will depict certain South Side and Lewis and Clark landmarks and will attempt to explain their relationship to the South Side Story as a whole.

The Class of 1963 feels it is "fitting and proper" to dedicate our Tiger to the telling of this Story, as a nostalgic tribute to all that Lewis and Clark always has and always will represent.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN PARKER
Principal

I have been told that the theme of this yearbook is the "South Side Story." I can say without hesitation—or might I be prejudiced—that the Story has been a glorious one. As I look back to 1925 when I became part of the Story, I can see three outstanding reasons for the school's success.

First, it has been due to a staff of teachers who are dedicated to their profession of working with boys and girls and giving of themselves for youth.

Second, it has been due to our being located in a community that has always been interested in good schools and education of a high quality.

Third, it has been due to a student body, the majority of whom understand that with every right comes a responsibility, and that where each student or each graduate is, Lewis and Clark is there also. May this class of June, 1963 continue to write brilliant chapters in the "South Side Story."

In the telling of the South Side Story, the Coliseum is associated with Commencement. Emphasizing a beginning and not an end, Commencement represents the fact that an important, vital phase of the student's life is over; but greater opportunities and challenges lie ahead, as students make the transition in becoming responsible, intelligent citizens. The Class of 1963 has followed in the footsteps of thousands of other graduates, who have established the traditions that are Lewis and Clark.

"I have always dreamed of coming to the United States. My highest wish has been to experience life in America. I came with many preconceived ideas; some of them were right, but most of them were wrong.

"I now realize the full meaning of the word 'understanding.' I understand you better now than before I came, and Lewis and Clark was the thing that changed my thinking. Is this a typical American school? Is the same pleasant atmosphere and the same 'bunch of marvelous kids' to be found elsewhere? If so, America is truly wonderful.

"I never connected friendliness with the United States. I thought of prosperity, wealth, and power, but never friendliness. Nevertheless, you have it, and that is what counts.

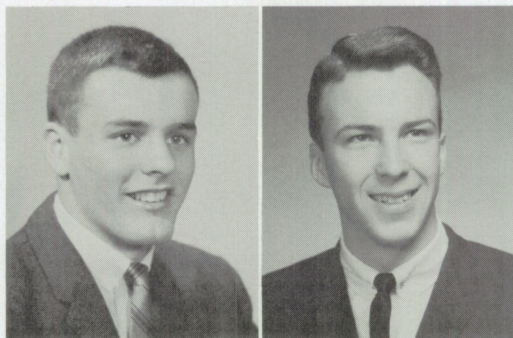

"Thank you, Lewis and Clark, for sponsoring an exchange student. I hope that many other foreign students will have this opportunity in the future."

In Memory of Charles Lloyd Myers, Jr.

Charles Lloyd Myers, Jr.

The Class of 1963 would like to pay tribute to one of its members, Charles "Sonny" Myers. He and his mother were killed in a tragic automobile-pedestrian accident on Christmas Eve, while on their way to church services. His friends and even those who didn't know him were shocked by the tragedy.

The 1963 Tiger Staff feels that his picture should appear with the graduating class as a memorial.

Seniors

Paul takes Tiger pictures.

June helps a future Journal writer.

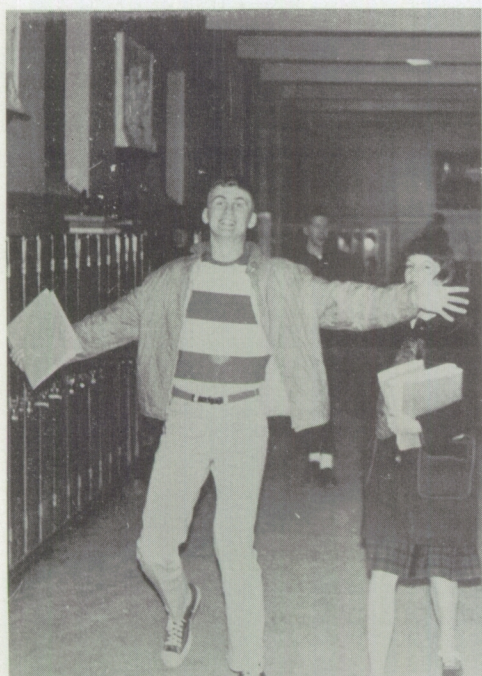

Joan, Sallee, and Patty work on the Tiger.

Otis, John Barany, and John Campbell croon at the B. F. Talent Con.

Anne spilled the beans!

Otis, you don't need to hog the whole picture!

Senior

Come on, Yvonne, take that money out of your pocket!

All right! Throw the books on the floor!

Bill Dennie and Jan Conley take a quick resume of the evening's entertainment.

"H-o-ome, H-o-ome, on the range . . ."

Activities

They aren't all ice in Norway!

Wait! Vikki's peeking!

The classroom represents the most important phase of Lewis and Clark life. The achievements of each student in the classroom will determine his place and his value in society. Each class — Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior — represents a year of academic study. The student progresses through the classes and classrooms of Lewis and Clark until commencement, when he is ready to take a more active, responsible part in South Side life.

Athletics are an important part of Lewis and Clark life. Some students are participants, while many students and adults are spectators. Athletics serve as a medium of interest between students and parents because of their common desire: the success of the team. Hart Field is immediately connected with Lewis and Clark and the South Side. It serves as a constant, tangible reminder of both the memory and the achievements of the many fine Lewis and Clark athletes.

The varsity football team had another fine year. They finished a strong second behind the Gonzaga Bullpups. Although the two games with the Bullpups ended in defeat, LC showed tremendous power in both offense and defense and had one of its finest teams in recent years.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS

This year's team was led by four All-City choices. They were Butch Slaughter, John Harshman, Wally Gaskins and Bill George.

Gaskins, one of the finest backs in City League history, and Harshman, an outstanding lineman, were selected for the All-State first team.

Gaskins broke four City League records: Most yards gained rushing in a single game (246), best yards per carry average in one season (9.99), most yards gained in a career (1,659) and most points in a three-year period (169).

Harshman was All-City for his second straight year and was a standout despite an injury.

The Tigers fell to defeat only twice during the season—both times to a spirited Gonzaga team. The first time they were caught by surprise when the Pups beat them, 32 to 14. LC was ready the second game, but fell gallantly to defeat, 14 to 7, in the dying seconds of the fog-shrouded Shrine game. Here Butch Slaughter explodes up the middle for ten yards during that game.

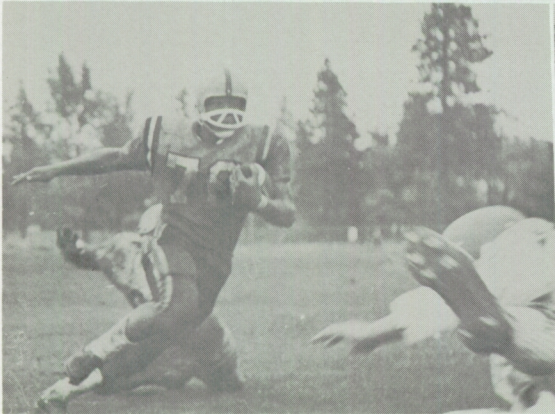

Don Engdahl (88) sprints around left end against Rogers for a 37-yard gain in a game at Joe Albi Stadium. LC won 27 to 7. Bill George (66) and Craig Olson (62) head downfield to block. The second game Rogers again proved they were no match for the Tigers in losing, 36 to 0, as the Tiger defense proved again to be outstanding.

LC came from behind to score victories against long-time rival North Central. In their first meet, LC came back in the final 6 minutes to score a 14 to 10 victory. Above John Harshman (89), Wally Gaskins (76), Bob Meyers (78), Steve Glass (between Gaskins and Meyers) and Royal McClure (68) charge in to attempt to block a field goal during the game. The second meeting saw LC take over in the second half to go on to a 20 to 7 win.

In the Shadle Park games the Highlanders were overwhelmed. They were unable to score against the tough Tiger defense both times. In the first game LC ran over the Highlanders, 26 to 0 as the explosive backfield went wild. The second game featured the great player, Wally Gaskins. Gaskins scored five touchdowns to end a brilliant career at Lewis and Clark as the Tigers over-ran SP, 55-0. Here Craig Olson (62) rips around left end for another Tiger gain.

Led by an explosive backfield, the Tiger varsity finished a strong second in city league standings this year.

LC has had a long record of superiority in many fields with athletics being no exception. During the past two years, LC has particularly excelled in football. In those two years, coaching has been at an all-time high. It has always been said that good coaching brings good teams and the South Side has had the reputation of having the finest coaching staff in the State.

The track team of last year left many difficult shoes to fill. That team was led by Bill Gaskins, who was state high and low hurdle champion; Bill Self, state pole vault and broad jump champion, and Jerry Leonard, state mile champion. This team compiled more points, $60 \frac{3}{5}$, in a state track meet than any other team in the history of the event. Early this year, the Sportswriters and Broadcasters named them the Inland Empire Team of the Year. This year's team has Vern Jones, mile relay, and Loren Hallett, half-miler, returning from last year's state championship squad.

The last chapter of the South Side Story pays a special tribute to the business and professional men and women of the community — especially to those who have contributed financially to the success of this book. Someday, Lewis and Clark students hope to take their places among these men and women in order to preserve and carry forward the great reputation and traditions of the South Side as revealed in this, the Class of 1963's South Side Story.
